Heritage Foundation One Year Old Sunday

The Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation will celebrate its first anniversary Sunday in the Branding Iron Theatre of the Fine Arts Building at West Texas State College.

Guest speaker at the 3 p.m. meeting is Paul Hadley of Frankfort, Kentucky. Hadley has been instrumental in the welding and production of two Kentucky symphonic dramas, and with his past experience the Heritage Foundation is optimistic about the advise and help he will be able to give in the building of the Palo Duro amphitheater.

"Not only will he bring a wealth of experience to us in our task of building the amphitheater in Palo Duro State Park for the production of our Symphonic drama, but he will bring us both enthusiasm and understanding for our project," says Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Foundation.

Hadley is assistant to the Commissioner of the Department of Commerce and a state consultant to the tourist and travel industry in Kentucky. He acted as an advisor to two of Kentucky's most successful symphonic dramas, "The Stephen Foster Story," which will open its summer season this week, and "The Book of Job." Hadley is a graduate of Ithaca College, Ithica, New York, and has done graduate work at Cornell, Columbia and the University of Louisville.

As immediate past chairman of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Tourist Committee, Hadley is currently serving as a consultant to the Department of Commerce of West Virginia. The fund raising drive for the Heritage Foundation project is currently underway in 11 area towns and cities. Over $150,000 of the projected $350,000 total has been raised in Amarillo and Canyon.

Following the general meeting Sunday a board of directors meeting will be held at the theater.

News Greet New Citizens

Canyon newcomers and old timers will have a chance to get acquainted with Canyon merchants during the next two weeks and make money doing it.

The Canyon News will run its annual get acquainted edition. Pictures of merchants will be published with blanks to be filled in giving the names of the merchants and the firms they represent.

It's a chance to know your town better and make some jingling money to boot. Be watching for it in The Canyon News next week.

Rules of the contest will be published along with the pictures.

This week The News is running several pictures of newcomers as a prelude to our get acquainted section.

Music Camp To Open

The Tenth Annual West Texas Music Camp is scheduled to begin on Sunday July 15 at the WTSC Fine Arts Building.

Five music students from Canyon will among the 400 to 450 students expected to enroll in the camp. They are Betty Sparks, Mary Ann Wheelock, Lynne Larson, Linda Lowes and Frances Kiker.

Students in grades seven through twelve will come from all over Texas and parts of Oklahoma and New Mexico to participate in two weeks of music instruction and other activities.

Alvis M. Autry of San Antonio College will be director of the camp choir, assisted by Dr. Houston Bright of WTSC. Band instructors include James Matthews, University of Houston; Vincent Di Nino, University of Texas; G.T. Gilligan, Kermit High School Band, and Orlands Butler, Lubbock.

Baton Instruction, an ever-popular feature of the camp, will be offered.

Seven Indicted By Grand Jury

Randall County grand jury Tuesday returned seven indictments.

The office of the district clerk declined to reveal the names of those indicted as they are not yet in custody. Next session of the grand jury will be held in August.

County Hits Legal Snag In Try To Pay Counsel

Randall County commissioners court is in a legal quandary over whether to pay Truett Hull for his services as acting criminal district attorney during the absence of A.W. Lair last week.

In fact, there's nothing in the minutes to indicate that Hull even was appointed officially to that post.

Freshman Meeting July 16th

Freshman orientation will begin at Canyon High School on Monday, July 16, according to James E. Miller, principal of the high school.

All entering freshmen and their parents are urged to participate in the program.

The purpose of the program is to aid the students in planning a four-year curriculum and to supply them with information about what will be required of them during their tenure at Canyon High School.

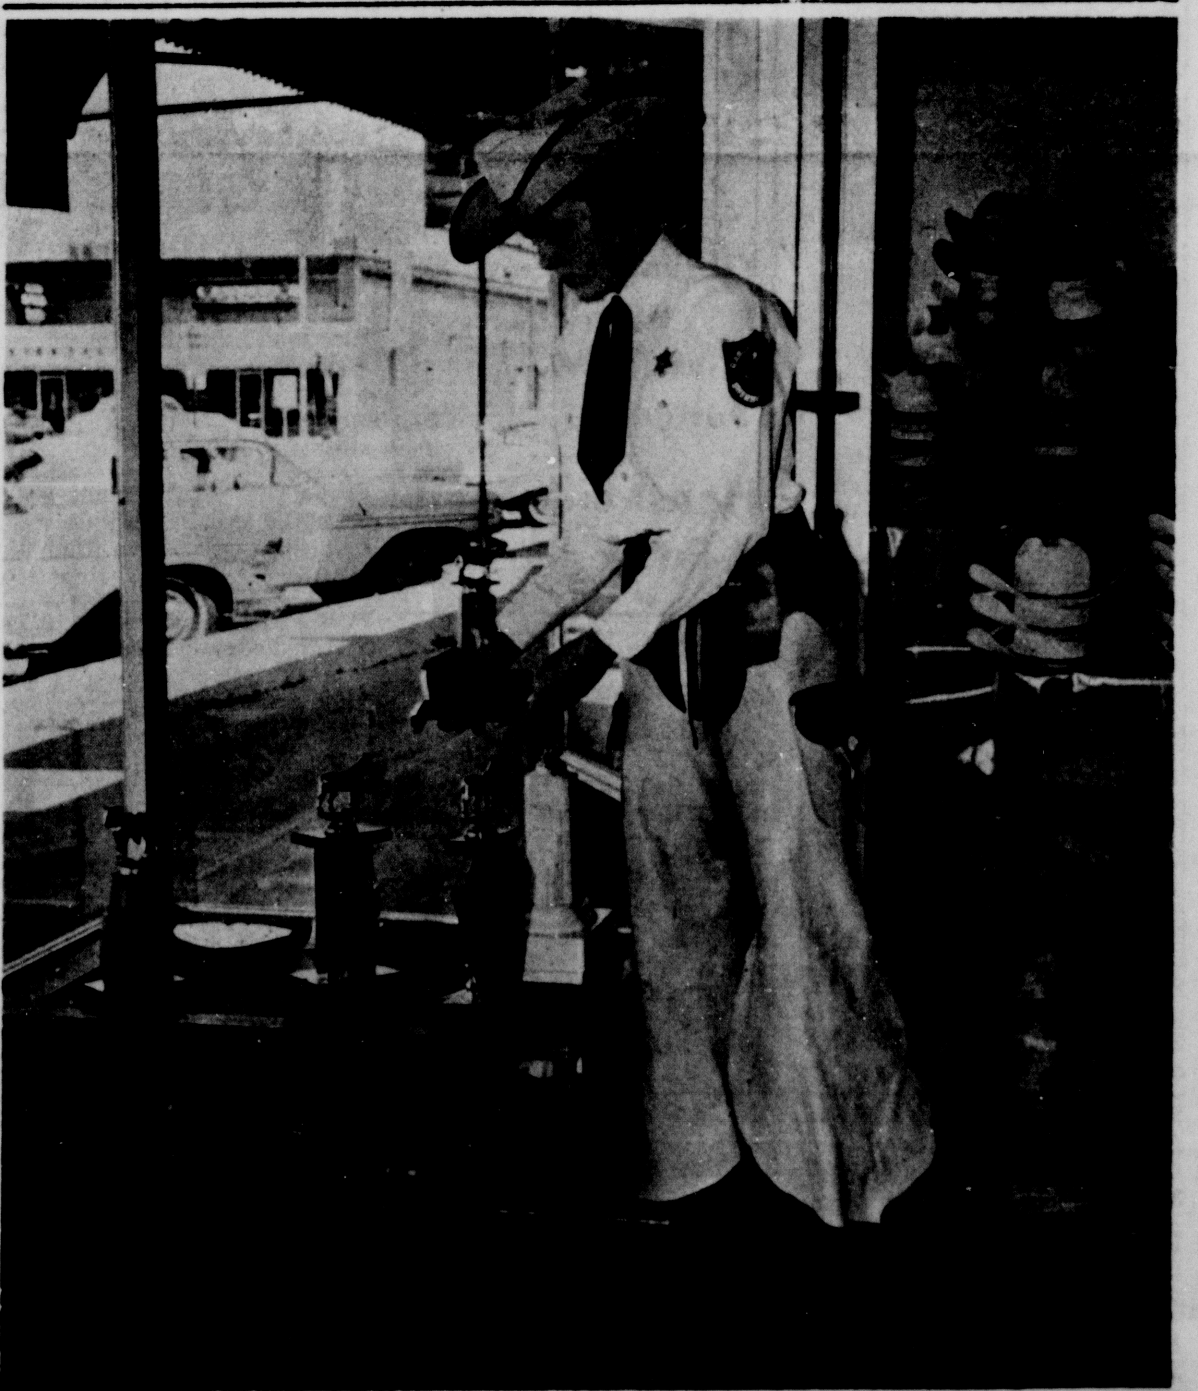

The program will continue until July 27, with eight students and their parents participating in the mornings and eight more each afternoon. Letters are now being mailed to parents of prospective students to explain when each one should attend. Miller has requested that parents begin making plans now to be present on the scheduled day.

Anyone who cannot be present at the time suggested in the letter should call the principal's office as soon as possible.

If there are any newcomers to Canyon whose sons or daughters will enter the ninth grade this fall they should also contact the principal.

About 155 new students and their parents are expected to participate in the program this summer. The orientation program, which has been in progress here for six years, has been highly successful according to Miller.

Larry Roberts, high school counselor will be present to assist Miller

Anne Hardaway, vice president of the Randall County Junior Deputies, adds another trophy to the collection after the group won third in the Plainview Annual Rodeo Parade. The Randall County Sheriff's Posse also rode in the parade which was last Thursday.

Sheriff's Posse Plans Shaping Up For Rodeo

The Randall County Junior Deputies rode away from the Plainview Annual Rodeo Parade last Thursday with third place honors.

The Junior Deputies and the Randall County Sheriff's Posse were among the 17 riding clubs to ride in the Plainview Parade.

Both clubs participated in the Will Rogers Range Riders Annual Rodeo Parade in Amarillo Saturday afternoon, but neither placed in the competition.

The district playday will be held Sunday in Amarillo and both groups will take part in the seven horseback games which is sponsored by the American Association of Sheriff's Posses and Riding Clubs.

Plans for the annual Randall County Roundup and Old Settlers Reunion were finalized in a Tuesday night meeting of the Sheriff's Posse meeting.

The three-day event will begin Thursday afternoon, August 2, with a parade through downtown. Immediately following the parade a barbecue will be held and the opening night of the rodeo will begin after everyone has eaten.

The second rodeo performance will be Friday night.

The third day Rodeo activities will begin Saturday morning with a practice session for the Old Fiddlers Contest which will be held in the afternoon. There will be three divisions of the Fiddlers Contest: under 65, over 65 and an open division. Prizes in all three classes will be $50 for first place, $25 for second and $15 for third.

The old settlers will begin to collect around the Canyon square Saturday afternoon. They will spend the day rehashing "old times" and during the afternoon's activities there will be a beef drawing. The final session of the rodeo will be Saturday night.

The stock for the rodeo will be furnished by Ratjen Brothers of Fort Worth and Happy.

Big Crowd Reported At Stuckey's

"This was one of the biggest openings Stuckey's has ever had," said Cecil Kirkley about the grand opening of the new shoppe located three miles north of Canyon.

Kirkley, assistant sales manager from Eastman, Georgia, was here to help with the formal opening held Friday through Sunday. The opening marked the beginning of the 15th Stuckey's store in Texas and the 125th store in the nation.

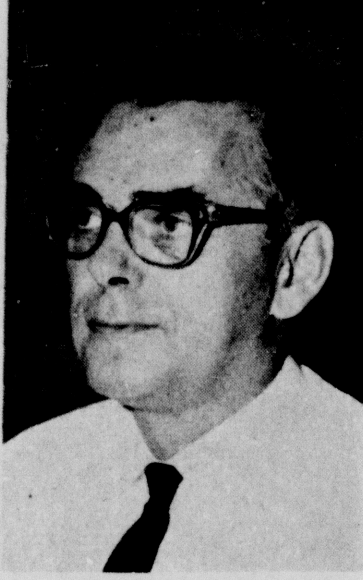

Mr. and Mrs. Meetch Bauder, who came from Harrisburg, Pa., are operating the new Canyon store. This was their first experience with Stuckey's and they were pleased with the results of the grand opening.

"We were thrilled with the crowd and turn out we received from the local people," said Mrs. Bauder.

During the opening free candy was given away and ice cold lemonade was served. With every 10 gallons of gasoline purchased over the weekend a pound of Stuckey's pecan divinity was given. The store sells pecan candies, country cured ham, citrus jellies, gifts and souvenirs.

"We consider the opening a tremendous success, and we want to express our appreciation to the people of this area for coming out and making it such a success," stated Kirkley.

Mosquitoes Sprayed Here

That's not real fog that covers the Canyon streets every week. It is just the city fogging machine spraying for mosquitoes.

York also said the Amarillo Bi-City-County Health Unit would be in Canyon soon to dust the city. Canyon has a contract with the health unit to dust periodically.

4TH OF JULY ★ 1962

Man-made accomplishments are far different on this July 4th than they were 186 years ago on our first Independence Day.

But the day still belongs to America -- and Americans. For it was 186 years ago that 13 States United took their places as the world's newest nation with a unanimous Declaration of Independence.

It was based on a simple precept -- "Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Space-age rockets don't change principles -- YOU are the government's master in this nation -- let's keep it that way!

here as it is for us to go over there."

The county gave $5,184.15 for the truck in 1950. Value set on fire fighting equipment now is $12,000. City authorities complain that the county is attempting to set up a depreciation schedule on the equipment retroactive to 1950.

County Attorney A.W. Lair Monday advised commissioners court: "You can't revise the contract yourselves. The first time you deduct you breach. It is a 4-year contract with a 30-day escape clause."

"If you take it on yourselves to re-work it, you've broken it. Technically you must give 30 days notice."

C.V. Johnson, at whose insistence the resolution was passed two weeks ago, said all he is trying to do is give everyone the same deal.

Canyon does the bulk of Randall County's rural fire fighting. Canyon Fire Department has answered 48 rural calls this year as compared to two by Happy and eleven by Amarillo.

City Commissioner Paul Lindsey, himself a city fireman, said the county truck is primarily designed for fighting fires in the country. "The city don't need it and I don't see why we should buy a truck for the county," he declared.

Beckman attended a special meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon at which the contract was the focal point of discussion.

Beckman said he was there in interest of a mutually satisfactory settlement of the matter.

"I hate to see some innocent folks suffer because of some mistakes that have been made," Beckman declared. He pointed out that rural residents are the ones who have most to lose in the bickering over the contract.

Both Lindsey and City Commissioner John Williams are farmers with rural holdings which would be without fire protection in case the city-county contract goes by the board.

"If some of my farm buildings were to burn, I'd blame the county, not the city," declared Commissioner Williams.

Commissioner Clarence Thompson made a motion that the city notify Randall County that terms of the letter of June 22 received by the city are "unacceptable and any deduction from billing under terms of the contract will be considered breach of contract."

Earlier at commissioners court meeting, Johnson declared that no action could be taken by that group until an answer to the county's letter to the city was forthcoming.

Thompson's resolution passed by the city commission was the city's answer.

The Twins beat the Colts 45 Thursday 8 to 3.

The bottom of the last inning was not played because the Colts had had their last bat and were not ahead so there was no use in playing it.

The battery for the Twins was, pitcher, Stewart Downing and the catcher Bill Long. For the Colts, pitcher, Tommy Johnson and the catcher Randy Lyles.

Babe Ruth League candy sales began here early Monday morning. Boys in the league are selling peanut brittle, peppermint sticks and orange-lemon slices to raise additional funds for uniforms and operating expenses for the league.

Ronnie Neal Hurls No-Hitter For Sox

White Sox pitcher Ronnie Neal hurred the first no-hitter in the six-year history of the Randall County Babe Ruth League last Thursday. Neal, who has been previously used as a second string pitcher, gave up no hits in seven full innings of play bringing the White Sox to a 29-3 victory over the Giants.

The Cardinals finally edged past the Giants as Huckaba came home in the last of the seventh to win Friday's game, 5-4. Played with mid-season form by both teams, this contest was a down-to-the-wire struggle. The Giants were leading by one slim point until the Cards' Gary Winter stole home in the sixth inning, upsetting the Giants' catcher Bill Long just enough to cause him to drop the ball.

League - leading Cardinals downed the trailing team from Happy, 5-2, in a well-fought contest Friday. Johnson was the winning pitcher for the Cards.

Culp, pitched a close game for Happy, giving up only six hits. The Pirates sailed to victory Saturday, defeating Happy, 10-4. Pitt was the winning pitcher, Maynard, the losing pitcher. Pitt has developed into one of the most effective players in the Babe Ruth League. If he stands up in district competition at Levelland as well

Childers Men Take Honors

There were eighteen entries in the tournament. The first place winners will divide $16 of merchandise from the club for their efforts. Second place winners will receive $9.60 in merchandise and third place, $6.40.

Babe Ruth Candy Sales Off To Good Start Here

Babe Ruth League candy sales got off a bang in Canyon and Happy Monday with slightly over $500 in sales being reported the first day. Profit to the league will be about half of this amount.

Some twenty boys kicked off the sales on Monday and another crew started selling on Tuesday.

Anyone who has already purchased candy from the league is asked to place the label from the candy bags on his front door so the boys will not call twice at the same house.

Boxes of the candy have been left at several local businesses to reach anyone who cannot be reached at home. The candy may be purchased in three pound bags for $2 at the following places: Myers' Farm Equipment, Heath and Lawless Oliver Co., Henscheid Feed and Farm Service, Poole's Farm and Ranch Supply, Consumers Fuel Association Elevator, Taylor Evans Farm Store, Umbarger Farm Supply, Bruce Blackaby Ford and the First National Bank.

Larry Wieck Now Playing For Waterloo

Larry Wieck, 20, is now playing right and center field for the Waterloo Hawks in Waterloo, Iowa. Wieck has been playing for the Waterloo team since leaving North Carolina about five weeks ago.

Wieck, whose season batting average is now .255, has slammed five homeruns in as many weeks for the Hawks.

Wieck the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wieck of Umbarger, signed last year with the Boston Red Sox for $35,000.

The Hawks are now only three games out of first place in the Midwest League.

by D. M. Upcomb Your Better Hearing

The life expectancy of any good hearing aid is from two to six years. It is generally felt that any use after three years is over and above the normal performance of a hearing aid.

At first glance, it seems that a hearing aid is a very high cost instrument to be so short lived. One must remember, however, that the hearing aid goes with him at all times into all conditions.

The fact that the hearing aid will last more than a year is a good testimonial to its durability. Imagine a high quality transistor radio strapped to the body for several hours a day every day. It would be exposed to body heat, perspiration, changes in temperature when the person goes from an air conditioned room into the hot sun, etc. It would be fortunate if the radio would last more than a month.

Even though the hearing aids are durable, there are several rules of thumb which should be followed in caring for them. These points are useful for the hearing aid wearer and also for his or her family.

1. Do not leave a hearing aid where it can become overheated. The complex and intricate components of a hearing aid are heat sensitive to some degree and overheating may cause the aid to change its performance radically.

2. Do not expose the aid to excessive moisture. Recently a hearing aid representative remarked that he had found many aids sent to his company for repair needed only to be dehydrated. Even though most hearing aids have a moisture seal, some moisture can creep in if not guarded against.

3. Handle the aid gently at all times and above all, do not drop it.

4. If your aid has a cord, be careful not to bend, twist or snag that cord. In an attempt to make the hearing aid cords more cosmetically acceptable, the manufacturers (See YOUR, Page 8)

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Conservatism continues to ground swell in this country. The administration's "sophisticated" bungling has set some of the most ardent supporters of the New Frontier wondering if they put their money on the right horse.

Supporters of individual freedom and responsibility have made their voices heard in Congress twice in recent weeks—once on the defeat of the farm bill and once in limiting aid to countries flying the Red banner.

State socialists have been vociferous in condemning the so-called rightwing has been used as a diversionary target to lure public attention away from the real danger to individual freedom—the people planners of the Potomac.

We see by the papers that Senator Ralph Yarborough was in the Panhandle over the weekend. We know the Senator. We had some dealings with him about the time he bested Blakely in his bid for the US Senate. At the time we had the privilege of representing the American Prisoner of War Association in Texas in its effort to free several hundred American soldiers being illegally held by Red China.

During the campaign, Yarborough gave solemn assurance that he would support action to bring about their liberation.

After he was elected, the Senator apparently lost interest in the plight of these patriots languishing behind Red barbed wire.

We made several telephone calls to the Senator in an effort to get him to live up to his promise to "bring the matter to a fight on the floor of the Senate if that's what it takes."

The Senator used our long distance time to recite his own war record, which, according to the Senator, was illustrious indeed. He did nothing as far as we have been able to learn, to help the American lads in Red Chinese prisons.

Only recently Senator Yarborough cast a vote in favor of continuing aid to certain Communist countries. He switched his vote when it became obvious that he was on the losing side.

Such is the courageous stuff of which our senior Senator from Texas is made.

Ralph Yarborough has shown himself to be dedicated to the type of welfare state advocated by Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., and his ilk.

There's one consolation in it all. Yarborough is a weak sister. There is little to indicate he means more than a Senate vote to the people planner whose boots he licks.

The sad aspect is the fact that his presence leaves Texas short handed in the US Senate, a place where a voice of integrity could count so much.

We can promise you this, Ralph Yarborough will not return unchallenged to the US Senate in 1964. The eyes of Texas are on You Mr. Senior Senator. Your record is weighed in the balance and found wanting.

President Kennedy is reported to have told his brother, Bobby, that he should go easy on parties where guests fall or are shoved into his swimming pool.

The latest orgy has brought some sharp criticism, according to news reports from the nation's capitol. Reports say some neighbors have complained that the peace is disturbed by all night parties.

Hilltop Views

Through the courtesy of a high official of the Canadian River Dam organization I had the privilege last Saturday of attending the much publicized celebration near Sanford and having a seat on the platform with more "big-shots" than I ever saw before in one huddle on the Plains of Texas.

And when I say "big-shots" I mean men who carry big responsibility at local, state, and national levels, such as delegations from each of the member municipalities of the Canadian River Dam project, mayors, members of the Board of Directors of the organization, state legislators from both our house and senate, the two leading candidates in the primaries for the Democratic nomination for Governor, prominent members of Congress (including some from other states) a U.S. Senator, and a member of the President's cabinet. Add to the above the President and General Manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association, three members of the Texas Water Commission, three officials of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, former Congressman Eugene Worley, and others whose names and positions this column failed to get, and you have a picture of the occasion.

There were several potent men in that group, too. Secretary Udall (Yoddall) was the major attraction and gave a good account of himself. He didn't fail to let it be known that he supports wholeheartedly President Kennedy and the New Frontier.

I realize that to mention Senator Ralph Yarborough in complimentary terms is like waving a red flag in the faces of some people but in my opinion he was the most dynamic speaker on the program and really looked the part of a U.S. Senator. I do not always agree with Ralph, but as long as he is in the Senate the country will know that Texas is still on the map.

Then there were two Plains Congressmen that stand up high in anybody's crowd—our own Congressman Walter Rogers and the South Plains Congressman George Mahon. Each holds key positions in Congress, is intelligent, energetic, honest, patriotic, and sensitive to the opinions, the wishes and the welfare of his constituents. The people of West Texas are fortunate in having these two able men in Congress.

Then very much present was Candidate John Connally. A master mixer, he is also a good speaker and made good use of the ten minutes he devoted to the introduction of Secretary Udall. Unless labor goes near overwhelmingly for Republican Cox, Connally will be Governor in a landslide; and he will be an able one too. He has more than average ability as Governors go.

The up-coming Lieutenant Governor was there, too, and he will have a lot to do with the course of government in Texas during the next administration. I had some experience with him while he was in the legislature and I was President of West Texas State. He was always fair and reasonable with me and took an interest in my problems. I shall expect him to handle the affairs of his new office with due regard to the public welfare.

The one man who did most to make the Canadian River Dam a reality, played an inconspicuous part in the day's exercise. It may have been his wish. He is a modest man. I have known him forty years and have never heard of his seeking personal honors. He was introduced at the close of the program as a "patient" man—a true, but wholly inadequate characterization. A.A. Meredith is just about the most dedicated public servant I have ever known. He has vision far above most; he has great faith in the ultimate triumph of all good causes and backs his faith by his works; he has boundless energy and spends it extravagantly for the public welfare; he has remarkable understanding of human nature and practices intelligently and honorably the art of diplomacy; fair in argument with those who differ with him, he rarely offends. A Christian gentleman of the first order he has exercised all these talents and move to make the Canadian River Dam a reality. The people of the Panhandle-Plains area, particularly those cities and towns that constitute the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, will do themselves great honor if they will publicly honor and reward A.A. Meredith in some appropriate and permanent memorial for this monumental achievement.

Elementary Teachers Hold Classes

Summer is not a rest for some Canyon teachers.

Mrs. Crews Henry and Mrs. A.K. Goodman, elementary school teachers, are holding summer classes for children of the Canyon area.

Mrs. Henry is teaching reading classes by the phonic system for elementary school children. From 8-10 a.m. Monday through Friday she has reading classes for second and third graders. She teaches fifth, sixth and seventh graders every day from 10-12 a.m.

Mrs. Henry uses the Phonic Keys to Teaching of Reading by Economy Company, which is a series she experimented with last year with her first grade class.

Mrs. Goodman is finishing her third summer for teaching the children. The 20 students are divided into two groups. Third and fourth graders attend class every day from 8-10 a.m. First and second graders attend from 10-11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Goodman aids the children in reading, arithmetic,

IS PRAYER IN SCHOOLS REALLY BARRED?

(Guest Editorial)

From U.S. News and World Report

The Supreme Court of the United States, in a 6-to-1 decision, has barred "official" prayers in public schools. But it hasn't barred prayer. It hasn't barred the teaching of morality or the philosophy of human brotherhood, or the spread of knowledge concerning Christianity or Buddhism or any of the other religions of the world. To permit in public schools the study of codes of human behavior is not to create "an establishment of religion."

But it is unconstitutional, says the Supreme Court, for Congress or any State to prescribe a form of prayer and require recitation as a regular exercise in a public school as part of a specified program of instruction. In delivering the formal opinion of the Court, Justice Black says:

"It is neither sacrilegious nor antireligious to say that each separate government in this country should stay out of the business of writing or sanctioning official prayers and leave that purely religious function to the people themselves and to those the people choose to look to for religious guidance."

It happens New York State undertook, through its Board of Regents, to require that in every public school the following prayer be said each day as an opening exercise:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our Country."

The fact, says the Supreme Court, that the prayer may be "denominationally neutral" and that students may "remain silent or be excused from the room" does not remove the "constitutional defects" from the procedure. For the Court adds: "Government in this country, be it State or Federal, is without power to prescribe by law any particular form of prayer which is to be used as an official prayer in carrying on any program of governmentally sponsored religious activity."

How would this apply if, for instance, the students were required to take a minute or two each day for silent prayer? Nothing would be said aloud. Each person would express to himself his own prayer, or say no prayer at all. The answer is that even this might be adjudged a violation of the Constitution if any governmental body prescribed such a religious program as an official part of the school's discipline.

But this does not render invalid any voluntary expression of religion by the students or bar teachers from granting a request from them for permission to conduct Christmas celebrations. Nor would mere discussion in the classroom of the importance of religion and its impact on the morality of a community be unconstitutional.

Justice Black says significantly in a footnote to the Court's opinion:

"There is of course nothing in the decision reached here that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the Deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a Supreme Being, or with the fact that there are many manifestations in our public life of belief in God. Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise that the State of New York has sponsored in this instance."

It is the fact that the prayer in New York's schools was prescribed as such by the State Government's own school board—and not the content of the prayer itself—which was the basis for barring the program as unconstitutional. The Supreme Court says in its ruling:

"We think that the constitutional prohibition against laws respecting an establishment of religion must at least mean that in this country it is no part of the business of government to compose official prayers for any group of the American people to recite as a part of a religious program carried on by government."

The foregoing quotation constitutes the ruling of the Court, and hence all other expressions of opinion are mere "dicta." They carry weight only as the view of individual judges. Thus, Justice Douglas, who wrote a separate opinion concurring in the ruling of the Court, says, in effect, he would bar the payment of any public funds to a church-related institution even for lunches or bus transportation and even for tuition grants to war veterans.

Each case must stand on its merits, and the key question before the Court always will be whether grants of financial aid actually put government in the position of prescribing or participating in any program of religious teaching.

writing or any course the child's parents or teacher recommend.

Abe Martin once said, "Some folks are poor enough to have 2 or 3 dogs."

Dr. R.C. Busted, head of the biology department at West Texas State College, answers this with "We are poor enough to have 22 dogs."

Dr. and Mrs. Busted have 22 Pointing Spaniels at their home on the Palo Duro Highway. They raise and train them for exhibition and hunting. Busted acquired his first Spaniel right after they were brought to the United States in 1945. Since then he has had as many as 40 at one time, all of the same stock.

Through inbreeding Busted has improved on the quality of these 21 1/2 - inch canines. His dogs are uniform in size, markings, and coloring, and Busted says this was one of his main purposes for inbreeding.

"Some people believe it (inbreeding) is a disastrous procedure. It is unpopular because people don't believe it is the way to breed fine animals," says Busted. However, he argues that inbreeding makes the dogs "uniform."

"I have had no outside stock for 20 years, and there have been more field winners out of my kennel than any in the United States," Busted says.

These rambunctious dogs have temperaments which are ideal for hunting. After several months of training, Busted and his wife will take a dog to a trial where dogs from all over the state or area will compete for top honors. During the trial the dogs are set out with their trainers and must point pheasants or game birds.

"It's very competitive, and so much depends on the breaks," says Busted. "Some dogs will chase rabbits or retrieve the bird before the command is given."

"If the breaks don't go your way it is disappointing, but it makes winning that much better," says Busted, as he views his rows of trophies.

To train the young dogs, Busted starts with a check cord which is a slender rope tied around the dog's neck. As a dog gets older Busted uses an electric collar. Through remote control Busted can push a button and the dog is stung.

"It's good because the dog does not associate the sting with his master. If the dog is chasing a rabbit the trainer can push a switch and the dog stops. He associates the sting with the animal he is chasing," explains Busted.

"Even at night if a dog begins to bark you don't have to leave the house. You can just push the switch and the dog quiets down. Saves a lot of steps," he adds.

To train the dogs to point

Busted raises pigeons which gives the atmosphere of live hunting conditions.

When a dog is two years old and has shown great promise as a hunting dog the Bustedes send it to Canada for professional training.

Canada seems to be almost ideal for training the pointers and setters because of the cool mornings and evenings. The dogs are trained with live prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse and there is unlimited space for hunting.

The Bustedes put in hours of work in training the puppies and they feel the best way to have fun in raising them is to take it seriously.

"Some people just think of dogs as pets for the kids. If you don't take them seriously there is no fun in it," explains Busted.

He pointed out that people who take raising dogs seriously raise them for trials and not just hunting.

"Hunting season is open such a short time, but trials are held almost year round," he explains.

After working on a research grant at Washington State University at the end of this summer, Busted plans to stay in Washington and attend the National Pheasant Classic in Ellensburg, Washington. He will be a reporter at the Classic which will be September 7-9.

The Bustedes are very optimistic about the Brittany or Pointing Spaniel's future.

"Any start is hard, but in 15 or 20 years these Spaniels should be one of the more popular breeds," says Busted.

The Bustedes demand that the dogs pay their own way to the trials.

"If a dog shows that he is good enough for highly competitive trials he is taken. Cross-country trips are too expensive for a mediocre dog. He must be good before we take him to a trial," concludes Busted.

Accidents On Canyon E-Way

The Canyon-Amarillo Expressway was the scene of two automobile accidents last Saturday night. No one was reported injured in either mishap.

The first occurred just south of Amarillo when a car driven by Donald Nicholson, Amarillo, was struck from behind by another car driven by Donnie Rhynehart, also of Amarillo.

According to the highway patrolman who investigated the accident Nicholson had stopped his car on the expressway and was backing it up when it was hit.

Damage to both automobiles was estimated at $900.

The second accident took place across the highway from Stuckey's at 10:15 p.m. when a car driven by Shirley Fiebig, Amarillo, collided with an auto operated by J.B. Sneed, Jr., Hereford, as the Fiebig car pulled onto the expressway. Damage was estimated to be about $150.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Of the two samples of screw-worm larvae submitted to the laboratory last week only one was identified as being screw-worm. This one was brought in by a cattleman in the Wayside area. Another sample was submitted this week to be analyzed.

Botulism may be considered by poultry producers in the same light as is food poisoning among human beings. Both will probably keep occurring and our best hope for prevention is an understanding of the causes in order to keep the cases as few as possible.

The bacterial agent for botulism is found everywhere in nature and its mere presence is not significant. It is the toxin which bacteria produce that is the cause of the disease symptoms.

This occurs only when the bacteria finds conditions which are optimum for its growth and reproduction. Here are some practices that can help you keep botulism a minor problem in your poultry operation. Conduct daily inspections during the summer months to eliminate all dead carcasses. Drain all stagnant pools on the range and keep them dry and dispose of all moist, decaying organic matter.

Here is news for those interested in spraying to control mesquite. The foliage on mesquite is in the best condition in years and should respond to treatment. Mesquite on rangelands is a major problem in Texas, robbing some 55 million acres of grasslands of good grass. Mesquite is rapidly invading Texas grasslands and areas that did not have mesquite growing on them 15 to 20 years ago, many now have a solid stand of young mesquite trees. Consult your County Agent on procedures as well as herbicides to use to help help you with your mesquite problem.

Seventeen Families Move Here

Seventeen new families have moved to Canyon since the first of the year according to the records in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The new families recorded by the Chamber office do not include the college families that move to town each year.

A list of the newcomers are William B. Anderson, 2600 6th Ave.; Lee Boyd Montgomery, Jr., 2107 2nd Ave.; Bill Cawthon, 2601 2nd Ave.; H.C. Warren, 2415 8th Ave.; Byron Brown, 1507 W. 8th Ave.; Bob Johnston, 1503 9th Ave.; Miss Sally Fields, 1501 9th Ave.; Chester Calcote, 2313 N. 3rd Ave. and Ray Spencer, 2111 1st Ave.

Also new is J.W. Campbell; Oather L. Harguess, 1306 7th Ave.; Tom Davis, 2400 9th Ave.; James Martin, Medford Trailer Court; D.R. Carroll, 1200 7th Ave.; Earlie R. Klass, 2609 2nd Ave.; James J. Dailey, Jr., 1301 8th Ave., and Fred Olson, 2608 13th Ave.

Newcomers in Canyon should register with the Chamber of Commerce, said Roland Black, chamber manager.

Miss Sally Fields, who moved to Canyon from Channing, Texas the first of March, is the Randall County Home Demonstration Agent. Miss Fields lived in Dalhart before she became a student at the University of Texas. She was graduated from the University in 1957. Since then she has taught in the Channing area. Miss Fields lives at 1501 9th Ave.

Chester and Maureen Calcote and their two children Ella Kay, 2, and Michael Darren 10 months, are in the living room of their home at 2313 N. 3rd Ave. The Calcotes moved to Canyon the first of May from Tulsa, Oklahoma, where Chester played bass in the Leon McAuliffe Band. He is now working with W.E. Hill and Sons Mobil Feed Service. He plans to enter West Texas State College in the fall with a major in accounting.

The new market manager of Taylor & Sons Bill Cawthon and his family reside at 2600 2nd Ave. From left to right is Sharon, 17, who will be a senior at Canyon High School, Bill Cawthon, Fay Cawthon, Vance, 9, and Billy, 15. Vance plays baseball for the Tigers and Billy is a member of the Cardinals team. They attend the Church of Christ. The family moved from Gruver, where Bill was market manager for G & G Foodliner. One coincidence that the family has run into since they have been in Canyon is that Joe Gibson, superintendent of the Canyon schools, was Bill Cawthon's superintendent when he was in school in Childress.

Fresh from Albuquerque, New Mexico, is the William B. Anderson family. Bill is a representative of the Alan-Randal Company which is a specialty advertising company. Sitting in his lap is Rebecca 3, and right of them is Jo Anderson, Carol 15, Barbara, 10, Bill Jr., 8, and David, 6. David celebrated his 6th birthday this week. The Andersons are members of the First Baptist Church and reside at 2600 6th Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Spencer and their daughters, Belinda, 8, left, and Denese Ann, 9, right, prepare to whip up a sandwich in their new place of business the Campus Barbeque, 2111 1st Ave. The Spencers moved to Canyon last week from Pampa. They lived in Marine City, Michigan, before moving to Pampa. The Spencers attend the First Baptist Church and pick bowling as the family hobby.

The H.C. Warren family has made plans to stay in Canyon permanently. Ruth and Hank Warren and their three children David 8, Tina 6, and Tommy 10 are seated in the living room of their new home at 2415 8th Ave. Hank is district geologist for the J.M. Huber Corporation and works out of Amarillo. When asked about a family hobby they all mentioned their annual trip to Colorado to snow ski during the winter months.

Fairview Breezes

We have received 1.45 inches of rain this past week.

Now that the wheat is harvested everyone is busy with their row crops.

Jerry Shipman is with the National Guard in Fort Polk Louisiana for two weeks. He left Friday morning.

Mrs. Ervin Wilson spent the past week visiting her parents, and other relatives in Georgetown. She and her children, Glenda and Eddie came home Saturday. Glenda and Eddie have been visiting for the past two weeks with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wilson of Manor.

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Wesley were in Happy Wednesday.

Happy was severely damaged by hail. Some report they have had total losses on their roofs.

Richard Evans is busy at Adrian planting his row crops now that he has harvested his wheat.

Mrs. Edna Wilson has been a visitor in the Charles Wilson and Ervin Wilson homes this past week.

Just a reminder about the Wesley reunion that will be held July 14 and 15 in the field house located in the city park in Plainview.

Mrs. G.E. Wesley received word that her sister and brother-in-law of Albuquerque New Mexico are both quite ill. He is in the veterans hospital there and Willie is in the home of her son. Mrs. Roberts will be remembered as Willie Evans.

The annual singing held each year at the Fairview church will be held the fourth Sunday in July. A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Bro. John Sullivan, a faithful servant of God, drives with his family from Amarillo each Sunday to deliver his message to us, a small congregation. We certainly do appreciate them.

Visitors in the Raford Shipman home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Shipman and children, Shelah and Tommy and Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Wesley.

Janis Shipman has been helping Mrs. James Parker with her housework and taking care of her small daughter.

Woodrow Wesley and son helped Mr. J.W. Wesley with his sick calves Sunday morning.

6. Each time you remove the aid, take the batteries out of their compartment. In their attempt to make the hearing aid batteries smaller, the manufacturers were unable to affect a good seal. These small batteries leak easily and may corrode your aid if left in the aid too long at a time.

Next week, we will continue a discussion of the proper care of a hearing aid.
